SPRING-FLOWERING BULBS

for Fall Planting

Holland has been, in previous years, the main source of supply of spring-flowering bulbs for American gardens. Since this supply has been cut off, we have made strenuous efforts to replace it with American-grown stock.

The growing of Tulips, etc., here has not yet developed sufficiently to equal the demand, therefore we import from England bulbs in additional quantities and varieties to fulfil your requirements. The offerings in this Catalog attest to the successful results of our efforts.

The bulbs of some varieties may not be as large and plump as Holland used to supply, but what really counts with you, the buyer, is the quality of the merchandise offered. No one realizes this more than we do, so we are always chiefly concerned with the one purpose of supplying our customers with the best that can be produced.

Popular DARWIN TULIPS

The most useful Tulips for garden decoration and cutting are found in the Darwin class. Their typical features are the tall, upright stems and the large, cup-shaped flowers, whilst their flowering period comes at the happiest time of the year, when Nature is painting the earth with her loveliest colors. Fill beds with these Tulips; plant them in borders, in front of evergreens, or along the edge of shrubbery and you will be assured of a colorful spring garden during May, extending into June in the northerly districts. Darwin Tulips give cut-flowers of extraordinary quality, which last a long time in water.

DARWIN TULIPS in Separate Colors

Eight of the finest shades suitable for bedding on a large scale at very advantageous prices. This offer in separate colors is for those garden owners who prefer a certain color but who leave the choice of variety to us. For each color we supply only one variety, so that, having the same flowering period and habits, they may safely be planted where a uniform show is required. For whatever purpose you intend to use them the results will always be magnificent.

INEXPENSIVE RAINBOW MIXTURE of DARWIN TULIPS

A mixture, so long as it is good, has many advantages for the enthusiastic flower lover. It is, as it were, a surprise, for you do not know what colored flower the bulb will produce. What a lovely picture you will have when your beds of Darwin Tulips in their motley color variations smile up at you. This well-proportioned mixture excels in color beauty. It consists of light, dark, and intervening shades, not too many bright colors or too many pale ones, but harmonizing, bright, striking and fine. Besides the almost perfect beauty this mixture displays in the garden, it gives a wealth of long-stemmed flowers for cutting, exceedingly suitable for graceful bouquets in your rooms.

Special Mixture of "Blooming-size" Darwin Tulips

A special offer of young bulbs which have grown this year to "Blooming-size." This size will produce a nice display of flowers the first season, although they will not be as large and the stems not as sturdy as produced by "first-size" bulbs. Under good growing conditions the "Blooming-size" bulbs will have developed to "first size" Tulip bulbs the following season.

Here's an opportunity to satisfy that desire to have a planting of Tulips at low cost to usher in the spring season. In this mixture of "Blooming-size" Darwins many colors and hues are blended together.

COTTAGE and LILY-FLOWERED TULIPS

Another race of long-stemmed Tulips which bloom at the same time with the Darwin Tulips. They are distinguishable from the Darwins by having mostly long and pointed flowers. Their delicate flowers harmonize perfectly with the other May-flowering Tulips. The graceful shape of the Cottage Tulips make them very desirable for cutting and many varieties are fragrant.

INEXPENSIVE MIXTURE OF COTTAGE TULIPS.

The Cottage Tulips differ from Darwins chiefly in the shape of flower, they are also tall-stemmed, bloom at about the same time and are by no means inferior to the Darwins in beauty and elegance. Their flowers are exceedingly graceful, slender and attractive, often Lily-shaped and of the loveliest colors. This mixture is suitable for scattering through the hardy border and as cut-flowers no other class of Tulips is of so uncommon charm.

Parrot Tulip "FANTASY"

Magnificent pink Parrot Tulip, a sport of Clara Butt, with the same habits in every way as to color, height, strength of stem, and time of flowering. It is not only the strangely exciting form of this Tulip that entralls one, it is the delightful warm pink color which is more magnificent than words can tell. You will like to have some of these quaintly shaped flowers for clumps here and there in the border or in front of evergreens. Their artistic form and coloring make them especially suitable for cut-flower purposes.

FOR NATURALIZING

Is there a sight more welcome than the nodding Daffodils or Narcissus under trees or a shrubbery planting, brightening the April landscape? Millions of them are distributed each season, and in the early days of spring there is hardly a garden large or small where their vivid colors are not displayed. They are planted in small groups in front of shrubs, in rockeries, or in masses in woods, fields, lawns; in fact, anywhere, where they can be left alone to increase from year to year.

TRUMPET DAFFODIL MIXTURE. A choice assortment of yellow Trumpet Daffodils recommended for planting in beds, borders, or as edgings where they will become naturalized. They will increase rapidly every year to give a fine display with practically no attention or care.....25 for $1.35

DUTCH IRIS

Of all the spring-flowering Iris, this is the finest and most satisfactory race. They produce large flowers on strong stems, which not only make them preferable as cut-flowers but also effective in the flower garden, in beds, groups and edgings. For best effect plant them closely together. They come to bloom in June and after the May-flowering Tulips are through blooming. Dutch Iris may be left in the ground for years in succession, if planted in a sunny location.

LILY-OF-THE-VALLEY

No garden should be without a generous bed of Lily-of-the-Valley. Their fragrant flowers have always been among the most welcomed of the year. The Valley pips we offer are for outdoor growing only. They are perfectly hardy, naturalize readily and are essentially shade-loving plants. The pips should be planted 4 inches apart each way and with the top of the pip just beneath the surface of the soil.

THE HERALDS OF SPRING

The finding in bloom of the "First Flowers of Spring" is a great event and one of the genuine delights of life. No garden, however small, should be without the showy Chionodoxas, charming Scillas, lovely Snowdrops, and dainty Grape Hyacinths. Do not miss this opportunity of delight—plant as many bulbs as space permits. They take very little room and, once planted, they reappear and bloom each spring.

CHIONODOXA (Glory-of-the-Snow)

The most cheerful of the early spring flowers. Produces bunches of star-shaped flowers on a stem 5 inches tall. A mass planting of these sky-blue flowers with white hearts forms a real beauty-spot. Can remain undisturbed for years to increase. Bloom in April.

GRAPE HYACINTHS (Muscari)

The Grape Hyacinth is a favorite among our early spring-flowering bulbs. Who is not familiar with these delicate spires of blue that loom up like so many fairy sceptres? You can make the most beautiful edgings and groups with them; they look charming in the rock-garden and so pretty beneath trees and shrubs. Muscari require very little attention and flower abundantly for a long period; they can be left for years undisturbed to return each spring with more and larger flowers.

CALOCHORTUS or BUTTERFLY TULIPS

Until one has seen a good collection of these bulbs, he has no idea how much Nature can do in the variation of one flower. The wonderfully marked eyes and dots and pencilings in rich colors of each flower are much like those on a butterfly's wings. They grow from 1 to 2 feet high and have from one to many flowers on a stem. In the mixture we supply, scarcely two are alike; they are simply marvelous in their variety of colors and markings. We promise the flower lover a new experience as he enjoys these strange flowers in May and June.

ERYTHRONIUM (Dog's-Tooth Violet)

The charm of these enchanting woodland plants is so well shown in the color illustration that words seem futile. Had they no other beauty than that of the richly mottled leaves, they would be well worth a place in the garden. They thrive in wooded places, under shrubs, and in shaded corners of the rocky, where they readily naturalize. They are hardy in the coldest parts of the United States. Bloom in April and grow 5 to 10 inches tall.
